Athens, 2014

July 4th - 6th, 2014

COMPETITION RULES

WORDS OF WELCOME

Sergey Soloveychik

President

European Judo Union

Dear Judo Friends,

On behalf of the European Judo Union let me say how delighted we are to be staging these European Championships for Cadets in the city of Athens, home of the modern Olympic Games. I trust that this vibrant and welcoming city will prove the perfect setting not only for showcasing all of our young and promising talent, but also an attractive and historic venue for our visiting spectators.

Personally, I have fond memories of being here during the successful staging of the Olympic judo event in 2004. For this and other important reasons the EJU executive committee has complete confidence in the capabilities of the Greek Judo Federation and its organizing committee to host such a major event in the EJU calendar and to meet the highest standards.

I want to take this opportunity to wish all the participants great success, enjoyment but, most importantly, I hope that our young athletes will take from this event the experience in meeting new people, making new friends and gathering unforgettable memories from this most hospitable of cities.

Dr. Ioannis Kafentarakis

President

Hellenic Judo Federation

Dear Judo family,

On the behalf of the Hellenic Judo Federation, I have the honor to welcome you all to the 2014 Judo European Championship. It is a great privilege for us to host this Championship and for that we owe a special thank you to the President of the European Judo Union, Mr. Sergey Soloveychik, and the members of the board.

In ancient Greece, sports consisted one of the basic axes of the educational system. All athletes are capable to become great in their sport and this greatness we are hereby invited to attend in the 2014 European championship.

The respect of medium, harmony, beauty, systematic training and quality of character comprise the factors which lead towards the perfection of each athlete and judo itself.

Let us adopt these ideals and share a competition of fair play and emulation.

Welcome to Greece, welcome to Athens!
